

One great solution to Counterfeiting

We all spend a tremendous amount of time building our brands and delivering to our customers the best solutions. It's well known that counterfeiting harms consumer confidence in brands, undermines trust in product safety and quality and leads to a loss of brand integrity and sales revenues.

To secure maximum brand protection, your strategy requires the adoption of the latest packaging technologies to secure product and package authenticity.

Understanding this need, Bapco Closures have created a packaging technology which removes the opportunity for counterfeiters to replicate, re-fill and re-seal. Our unique technology welds the foil seal between the container neck and the spout. This integration of the protective foil within the container neck as a critical design component means that once the tamper evident fresh seal is removed, it is impossible to replace.

The end result is an integral packaging solution which assures consumer confidence, product safety and protection of brand credibility.
